MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT : Appointment of Chairman of CIA
Information Review Committee

STAT

1. Executive Order 11652 requires that the Director appoint the Chairman of the CIA Information Review Committee. This requirement is also included in the Agency regulation which implements that order and the Freedom of Information Act (section 1900.51(a) of the new Annex A to [redacted]). This was done originally when the Director approved the regulation, issued in June 1972, when Executive Order 11652 became effective. That regulation designated the Executive Director as the Chairman of the Committee. With the abolition of the office of the Executive Director, the Deputy Director for Support assumed membership and the Chairmanship. No formal appointment of a Chairman was made, however, and none has been made since. It is particularly important to perfect the appointment because the regulation permits the Committee to authorize the Chairman of the Committee to delegate to one or more of the Committee members the authority to act on a particular appeal or class or category of appeals. It is recommended that you appoint a Chairman.

2. Under the Executive Order the Chairman is also to "insure effective compliance with and implementation of this Order," a responsibility assigned by our regulation to the Deputy Director for Administration. Accordingly, it is recommended that you appoint as Chairman the Deputy Director for Administration. See below for appointment language and your signature.
